Welcome to CEDC 2015

To encourage engineering students create design solutions to real-world problems, Creative Engineering Design Competition (CEDC) will be held as a special session of International Conference on Innovative Application Research and Education (ICIARE'2015). Students with brilliant engineering design ideas are encouraged to submit their proposals and to demonstrate their talents in front of world-renowned experts in design and manufacturing. Submitted reports are judged on the basis of creativity, practicality, integrity of analysis and design methodology, and quality of a fabricated prototype and a final report. All participants of CEDC will be recognized by the conference chair and winners will be presented with awards including certificates. CEDC will also host a round table of international social exchange that can be a seed for possible future international collaborations between attendants

Eligibility and Scope

Any graduate or undergraduate registered as a full-time student is eligible to participate. Both individual and group projects are welcome. An individual may participate in several entries provided each submission is on a different subject.

Judging

The judge committee includes experts of CEDC 2015 from both academia and industry. The project posters will be evaluated based on the contents and a 5 minutes oral presentation at the CEDC 2015 session. Prototype demonstration of the proposed design idea is requested as on-site demonstrations.

Awards

Award certificates and other prizes will be presented at the conference closure ceremony. The prizes will be distributed among the members in each winner team. All participants of CEDC 2015 will receive recognition from the conference and organizing committee.

Venue

Zhenjiang is situated in the southeast of China, at the junction of the Yangtze River and the Grand Canal, 63 kilometers (40 miles) from Nanjing, the capital city of Jiangsu Province. It has a history of 3000 years. Earlier Chinese travelers classified Zhenjiang's scenery as 'The Best Landscape under Heaven', and indeed the area known as the Southern Suburbs was often used as a theme in landscapes by famous Chinese painters. A local specialty is a steamed meat pastry called Crab Cream Bun. Other famous special products include fragrant black vinegar (镇江香醋), Chinkiang pork (镇江肴肉), and pickles.
